JEAN-PHILIPPE GAULIER JOINS DIGITAL SECURITY AS DIRECTOR OF INNOVATION

Puteaux, 11 October 2017 – Digital Security, a subsidiary of Econocom Group, has announced the appointment of Jean-Philippe Gaulier as Director of Innovation. At Digital Security, he will focus on creating new high-value-added services, strengthening the Business Development team and carrying out strategic consulting missions.

"Innovation is at the heart of the DNA of Digital Security: for example, we created the first IoT CERT, the first IoT security label and its centres of excellence in IAM, operational security and security governance. We are really proud to welcome Jean-Philippe to our team", said Jean-Claude Tapia, Chairman of Digital Security.

A devoted career working with blue chip companies and startups

As an engineer who graduated from the Conservatoire National des Arts et Métiers, Jean-Philippe has had an extensive and varied career. He has worked in both the public and private sector and occupied various roles as trainer, administrator and technical director. More recently, in 2008 he was Deputy Director of Services for ST Ericsson then in 2010 he became Technical Director of the Orange Business Services programme before joining Orange SA in 2012 where he spent five years as Security Director of the Group IT department, then Deputy CSO of the Innovation, Marketing & Technology (IMT) division, which was the Group's core innovation centre.

Award winner of the CISO 2017 Grand Prix of the Assises de la Sécurité in Monaco in the Most Innovative Approach category

For his project for creating a methodology for assessing service companies' security policy, Jean-Philippe Gaulier was recently awarded the CISO 2017 Prize of the Assises de la Sécurité in Monaco in the Most Innovative Approach category.
